Handbook of Clinical Teaching in Nursing and Health Sciences

2010-08-23 Marcia Gardner A quick resource for support of clinical teaching for nurses and other health professionals. This handbook allows a clinical instructor to identify a question about clinical teaching, read, and quickly get ideas about how to effectively handle a situation or create the best learning environment within the clinical context.

So You Want to Teach Clinical?

2018-10-26 Laura A. Jaroneski Teaching nursing students in a clinical setting with patients differs greatly from teaching in a classroom. It can be a daunting task if one is not prepared and mentored. This book provides a concise and accessible guide for nursing instructors leading students in the healthcare agency for the first time, as well as experienced educators who are interested in exploring new teaching strategies. It covers many aspects of the clinical instructor role including: meeting the nurse manager organizing and documenting your clinical day creating clinical student assignments objectively evaluating student's individual performance acknowledging diversity and inclusiveness tracking progress and handling student errors In addition, the book discusses some of the more complex issues surrounding the role of the clinical instructor such as accountability for nursing care, documentation and medication administration carried out by students. The book features numerous forms and charts to assist in organizing and managing the teaching experience, as well as situational scenarios to help prepare instructors for unique situations that arise during the clinical experience. Written by authors with extensive experience in clinical care and teaching, this book will be an invaluable guide for all clinical nursing instructors, both novice and experienced. Examples of tools in the book and online downloadable forms to support an organized clinical experience for a new instructor accompany this publication.

Mental Nurses Training Manual

2023-05-03 David 'Khyber' Close Back at the end of the 1970s, three hundred copies of Neglect & Violence – Mental Nurse’s Training Manual were released by Wombat Printing NL to friends and the nurse’s underground. Forty plus years later it is now released to the public with little danger of litigation regarding libel or defamation. The back-cover blurb for MENTAL NURSES TRAINING MANUAL then had it that: ‘An ex-psychiatric nurse recalls his experiences after reporting a bashing and drinking on duty to his superiors. He exposes a cover-up by the hospital authorities and the State government bureaucracy then known as the Mental Health Authority. His report details murder and suicide cases and hints at widespread cruelty and indifference. His memories and impressions of the people he met working at a Melbourne mental hospital adds colour to a subject which bears thinking about. The author’s futile exploits as a candidate in the 1973 Victorian state election makes amusing and / or alarming reading, while his analysis of shortcomings in psychiatric practice might stimulate a new deal for the bewildered victims of our dog-eat-dog civilization...” “A must for all the up and coming maniacs.” – Gough Whitelamb in the Daylesford Gazette. “Lifts the lid off the sanity business.” – Clyde Pucker in the Yea Times. “Reading this book didn’t relieve my obsessive-compulsive-neurosis or my ethical dilemmas, but it gave me the pleasant feeling that I am not alone in this world with my belief in the prefectability of mankind through the exercise of hope fertilized by integrity.” – Malcolm Howard in the West Wyalong Whinger. “Whistle-blowing anti-psychiatry still resonates today.” Phil Saddams in the Rupert Warduck Stable

Nursing Home Director of Nursing Services Facility Orientation Guide

2015-05-14 Peg Tobin The Nursing Home Director of Nursing Services Facility Orientation Guide was written by Peg Tobin and Richard Tobin as a guide to help a new Director of Nursing key-in on specific areas to learn about in each department of a post acute facility. It is also designed to help seasoned DON's become familiar with a new facility in an organized process. Peg and Richard Tobin have both worked in the capacity of Regional Managers and Corporate Leaders. Richard has been an administrator and Peg a director of nursing services; therefore, they are very familiar with the operations of a post acute facility and developed this guide from years of experience in the field. According to Peg and Richard in order for a leader to be successful they need to take the time to meet all of their associates and learn what is happening in each department from the associates. Once a leader has demonstrated they care about those that work with them; the associates will care to adopt the leader's vision. This guide is general yet specific at the same time. In healthcare things are constantly changing and being approved upon; therefore, there will be reports that are referred to that will become extinct and new ones added. When change happens update and move on. The guide will remain pertinent and a very useful tool.

Nursing 101

2013-05 Kathleen Jimenez Have you dreamed of becoming a Nurse for as long as you can remember? Do you think you have a pretty good idea of all that a career in Nursing entails? Or have you just graduated from Nursing School and now find it's nothing as you expected? Worse yet, did your classes not prepare you for the magnitude of responsibility you now have? Were you not given clear strategies on how to manage your patients and the extensive workload required during a 12 hour shift? Or, have you been a Nurse for some time, but now feel tired, frustrated, and no longer sure this is the career for you? Do you struggle to get through your shift, going home with fear and worry you missed something in the care of your patients, or perhaps don't feel you gave them your best due to being overwhelmed by multiple conflicting priorities? For some of us, the realities of being a Nurse seldom match either our imagination or our expectations, and all too often our education falls short in providing us with adequate preparation-given its limitations in clinical time, intensity, scope, and supervision. Furthermore, traditional Nursing Theory is often a sea of confusing rhetoric which only minimally translates to any sort of practical application. And, suffice it to say, when you're a New Grad, you need survival skills-plain and simple. You've been taught the Science, in terms of Anatomy and Physiology; you've read about the procedures, and may have even performed a few of them once or twice; but, how do you put it altogether when caring for 5 or 6 or 7 patients, especially after a typically minimal orientation, given the financial constraints in today's world of healthcare, where productivity is everything. Nursing 101 offers the missing link-realistic, time-tested, old-fashioned advice on exactly "How to be a Nurse"-essentially, the much-needed lessons on blending Art with Science. Likewise, it speaks to what it truly means to be a Registered Nurse, in terms of core values, role responsibility, professional accountability, and the achievement of clinical excellence. Finally, it also points out some of the harsh realities of healthcare, and Nursing's place in the grand scheme of things, in terms of effecting positive change. Use it as a primer for Nursing, a basic "how to," as it is loaded with countless practical techniques, simple instructions, and basic knowledge which you rarely get all in one place in Nursing School, and may not assimilate easily on your own, nor from your peers and coworkers. This is the fast track to success. Use it and love what you do!

First Director Of Nursing Training Manual: Should your child go for the football practice 5 days a week? Are 3 days enough? It is common for parents to be a little confused when it comes to deciding how much is too much with reference to after school activities. They argue that since most of the activities are fun (as different from studies), children will simply lap up these classes. But, too much of fun can also make a child sick. Here is a simple guide that will help you decide how much is too much for your child.

Kindergarten:

Your child is just beginning to learn to interact and get used to discipline. His or her after-school life should be simple and carefree. One or two classes per week are enough at the beginning. Once the child settles down, look for more challenging activities like a music program.

Grade 1:

One or two activities per week, play dates and playground visits are recommended. Avoid competitive sports activities. The child is still too young to have to worry about winning and losing. After the rigors of a full day at school, he or she needs a healthy outlet for pent up energy. Physical activities and noncompetitive sports are best for this age.

Grade 2:

Your child is old enough to voice opinions on what activities he or she wants. Sports, skating, swimming or computers - steer him towards things he likes. Many children begin lessons on a musical instrument around this age. But, allow your child some alone time during which he can unwind and just do whatever he wishes.
